FAS Provides Direction Regarding Licensing Fees on UK Historical Licenses

The Dairy Import Licensing Program has notified CIAA that holders of UK historical licenses will not be charged license fees so long as the license holder requests that the Program remove the license from their ATLAS account. License holders should only request this if the license holder does not intend on using the license. The historical quota associated with the license that is removed will move to the lottery license quota for the 2023 license year. If a license holder intends on using the UK historical license, then the license holder is required to pay the full licensing fee.

For those importers that wish to remove their UK historical license(s) and not be charged the license fee for 2022, you must email Joe Wereszynski at Joe.Wereszynski@usda.gov and Elizabeth Riley at elizabeth.riley@usda.gov by Noon Eastern on Wednesday, January 26, 2022. The request should include the following information: license number, type of license and amount of quota.

Members with questions regarding this may contact the Husch Blackwell team at CIAAGeneralCounsel@huschblackwell.com.
