CIAA Submits Feedback to FTC Regarding Supply Chain Disruptions

Last week, the Cheese Importers Association of America submitted written comments to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) regarding the impact of supply chain disruptions on the cheese importing community. These comments were submitted in response to a FTC request for comments seeking to better understand the impact these supply chain disruptions have had on consumer prices. The comments highlight the struggles cheese importers have had at ports, with worker shortages, and limited availability of reefers, as well as discuss how cheese importers have attempted to limit the impact of these disruptions on consumers.
